

BADGER CASHIER GIVES SELF UP

WISCONSIN MAN SAID TO HAVE TAKEN THOUSANDS WALKS INTO CITY JAIL

HEARD THAT HE WAS WANTED

Police on the Lookout for Several Days
as He is Charged With Taking $15,000 From Milwaukee
Institution.

Cleveland, Aug. 3.—Saying he was the defaulting bank cashier of Racine, Wis., for whom the police of every city in the country have been looking, John Schulte walked into the Central station Sunday afternoon and gave himself up.

"I heard I was wanted," said Schulte after he had introduced himself. Schulte was cool, and the fact that he may have to serve several years in prison did not seem to disturb him. As he declared his identity, he leaned carelessly on the rail and puffed a cigar.

The police did not have to hunt long before they discovered that Schulte had heard no idle rumor about his presence being desired in Wisconsin. A circular in Inspector Rowe's office had already informed the police to be on the lookout for Schulte, as there is a charge against him of taking $15,000 from the funds of the First National bank of Racine, of which he was cashier. Schulte refused to discuss the bank trouble.

The authorities in Milwaukee were notified and steps were at once taken to take Schulte back to Racine.

A dispatch from Racine says that speculation was the cause of Schulte's downfall. For more than three years, it is said, he had been playing the markets, and had been a steady loser.

He became short in cash and resorted to borrowing from friends until he was involved for more than $1,000, it is alleged.

It is alleged that Schulte took some of the bank's money to square his debts, and when the time came to replace it was unable to do so. Officers of the bank believe that Schulte's speculations did not amount to more than $4,000 up to the time of the discovery.

Schulte, when he learned that his alleged shortage was discovered, decided to flee, it is said. It is charged that he took packages of money containing between $10,000 and $12,000 from the vaults of the bank.

Before leaving Racine Schulte is said to have notified the postoffice authorities to mail any letters that might be received from Cleveland back to that city. It is thought Schulte has been in Cleveland ever since he left Racine.

It is reported in Racine that Schulte was heavily interested in oil stocks and land interests in the west, but these reports could not be confirmed. His relatives in Racine had heard nothing from him since his disappearance.

Schulte is said to come from a wealthy family. As he appeared at the police station he presented a prosperous appearance. He is 38 years old.

Italian Defies Slaves to "Come Out and Fight"—Revolver Is Used As Means of Defense and Prove Effective.

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 3.—One man dead and 25 others severely injured, some of them fatally, are the results of a riot early Sunday between Italians and Slavs at Gates, one of the H. C. Frick Coke Co. plants, near Maestown.

All the men are foreigners. There have been factional differences between the two races for a long time. Saturday was pay day at the large plant and until after midnight a large quantity of intoxicants was consumed. Jacob Furance, leader of the Italian faction, went to the gate of a Slav boarding house and defied its 25 inmates. Immediately Furance and Alex Molanski, leader of the Slavs, were engaged in a fight. Antillo Ronco, another Italian, went to the assistance of the former and this was the signal for a general fight. Revolvers began to crack and Ronco fell dead, struck, it is said, by a misdirected shot fired by Furance, to whose assistance he had gone. The injuries of the 25 men consist of bullet wounds through the body, arms and legs. The most serious wounds were received by the Italians.

A squad of Pennsylvania State Constabulary were quickly at the scene and 19 of the rioters were arrested and taken to Maestown. Members of both factions then surrounded the jail, demanding that their companions be liberated. During the night the jail was guarded and late Sunday the men were brought to Uniontown on a special street car.

As the injured men recover they will also be arrested.

BELIEVE HOLLAND WILL GET BUSY

ALL DUTCH CONSULS TURNED OUT OF VENEZUELA—WAR ON CASTRO IS HOPED FOR.

HAS JUMPED TO END OF ROPE

Holland Able to Give His Highness the Lesson of His Life—Several Transports May Sail Soon With Troops.

Washington, Aug. 3.—It is the opinion of all officials that Castro, the boss of Venezuela, has made another long jump toward the end of his rope.

His action in turning away all the consuls of Holland in Venezuela is one of the most insulting performances of his career. In his numerous imbroglions with European governments he has never before gone so far.

This step of Castro's is almost an act of war. If any first-class power took such a step toward another it would undoubtedly be considered equivalent to a declaration of war.

Virtually all trade is closed between the two countries by Castro's act. This is not very considerable, Holland selling less than $2,000,000 worth of merchandise to Venezuela last year, while she bought less than $1,000,000 worth. It is the offensiveness of the act that will prick the Dutch pride.

Holland has two colonies in America, the island of Curacao and Dutch Guiana. The latter is separated from Venezuela by British Guiana. While the Dutch possessions in America are much smaller than in the far east they are important enough to make Holland feel the cuts some figure in the politics of South America.

In withdrawing the exequaturs of the consuls Castro assumed his usual air of impudence. His orders were transmitted by Foreign Minister Paul, who wrote:

"In view of the gravity of events Venezuela is forced to advise Holland that it cannot continue friendly relations until Holland gives satisfaction for the injuries and insults put upon Venezuela. These injuries and insults are the offense of Minister De Reus, the fact that the Netherlands cruiser Gelderland failed to salute the Venezuelan flag and the attack on the Venezuelan consul at Willemstad, Curacao, the violation of the consular shield."

When a nation's official representatives are ordered out of a country in such times as these it is natural for offense to be taken, and Washington would not be surprised to hear at any moment that Holland was to display her ill feeling.

There is no question but Holland is amply able to give Castro and his people the lesson they need. With an army of 32,000 at home, 26,000 in the East Indies and a navy of a dozen or more serviceable warships, she could thrash Venezuela without half trying.

It would tickle the government here to have Holland do the trick. It would put an end to the annoying conditions in Venezuela and spare the United States the trouble of going down there, as she will have to eventually, if things go on as they are recently.

As diplomats look at the situation, it would not be at all surprising if Holland soon declared a state of war to exist and sent over a fleet, together with several transports filled with troops.

Connecticut Town Has Bad Fire.

Winsted, Conn., Aug. 3.—The borough of Winsted was visited by a fire Sunday in which the state armory, containing the largest hall in northwestern Connecticut, the Odd Fellows block and the Manchester building were destroyed, and fully a dozen other buildings caught fire and were badly damaged. The entire loss being placed at $80,000. During the course of the fire fully a dozen persons were taken from the upper stories of the Odd Fellows block and the Manchester building, the fire cutting off their escape by the usual exits. No one was injured. The origin of the fire is not known.

Dogs Could Not Follow Scent.

East Wallingford, Vt., Aug. 3.—The blood hounds which for the past two days have been trailing Elroy Kent the escaped inmate of the Waterbury insane asylum, who is wanted on suspicion of having murdered Della Congdon, the deaf mute, last Friday, were sent back to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The scent was too old for the dogs to follow successfully. Armed men, however, are still hunting the woods in this vicinity and it is believed that eventually Kent will be driven from his hiding place by hunger.

Handwriting Tells Tale.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Detective Dubach Sunday night compared the handwriting of Charles Hadley, supposed murderer of 15-year-old Nora Fuller in San Francisco, with the penmanship of the man, "J. Blair," who it is alleged kidnapped 13-year-old Veronica Cassidy in this city Thursday. Dubach said: "I am convinced that the two samples of handwriting were penned by the same man. The 'n' in the word 'Newport,' in the note left by Blair has a curve corresponding with that in the caption, 'N' in the San Francisco circular. Like wise the 'k's, the 'e's and the 'b's' are similar."

OVER 100 PEOPLE PERISH IN FIRE

CANADIAN TOWNS DEVASTED BY RAGING FLAMES.

Property Loss Estimated at About Fifteen Millions—Thousands of People Are Homeless.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 3.—As a result of bush fires that started Saturday and still rage for many miles, Fernie, B. C., is wiped off the map. Michel, 14 miles distant, is in flames, and the fate of Hosmer, Olson and Sparwood, intervening towns, is in doubt, as they are cut off from communication.

More than 100 lives are reported lost, 74 of them in Fernie. A territory 100 square miles in extent is a seething mass of flames. Through it are scattered hundreds of lumbermen and prospectors, so that the actual loss of life will not be known for days.

Much property of the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern railways is destroyed, including bridges and rolling stock, so that it is impossible to enter or leave the burning area. It is estimated that property loss will be $15,000,000.

Inhabitants of the affected towns have fled to open country to seek safety.

Fire fighting apparatus is of no avail, for the air is filled with fragments of burning wood and sheets of flames seem to leap ahead of the conflagration as if the air itself were in flames.

Y., Aug. 3.—Miss Elsie Green of Savannah, Ga., and Porter Parish of Memphis, Tenn., were run down in a skiff about 40 rods off the Chautauqua pier on Lake Chautauqua late Sunday night by the steamer Chaudokan and both were drowned. Gould. Mrs. Julia Fleming, a seamstress, who also is accused of having conspired to obtain false evidence against Mr. Gould, already has waived examination before a magistrate and is held under bail. The chief evidence against Mrs. Teal and Mousley was given by Mabel MacCanadian, who testified that she was called by them to make a false affidavit charging Mr. Gould with improper conduct.

THE PAINT OF

Havana Receives Returns.

Havana, Aug. 3.—The result of Saturday's provincial and municipal elections is still hanging in the balance. Only fragmentary reports have been received from the interior, but these indicate general conservative gains and point to the probability that the conservatives carried all the provinces with one or two exceptions. Matanzas City, Sagua La Grande and Santiago are known to have been strongly conservative. Gov. Dougherty of Oriente province, formerly the province of Santiago, reports that three-fifths of the municipalities there give the Miguellistas a slight estimated plurality. Camaguey and Pinar Del Rio evidently are conservative. In Santa Clara province it is believed the conservatives are ahead.

Denatured Alcohol.

Uncle Sam removed the duty on grain alcohol, used for manufacturing purposes provided it should be so treated as to prevent its use as a beverage. The owner of the chafing dish will purchase this alcohol for 15 cents a pint, knowing that it is the cheapest fuel obtainable for the alcohol lamp. It is useful for cleaning garments. If used to dilute certain cleaning fluids, it is splendid for removing blemishes from cotton, silk or wool. When using it, the article must be placed over a blotting paper to absorb the grease or blemish otherwise it will remain, or leave a mark around the goods. As a fuel it burns with no odor, consequently it is best for use where one has but a single room and an alcohol or oil stove must frequently be used. It is cheap enough to burn in the bathroom stove for heating purposes. All articles manufactured up to date to be used with denatured alcohol are considered practical and cheap, chief among which is the iron for laundry work, to be used in the boarding house, hotel or even the private home.

Not Every Man—

Who is on his knees in a position to propose marriage or support a wife if he should be accepted.

Who thinks burning thoughts can be relied upon to set the world on fire, or escape getting himself into a white heat of passion.

Who speaks a spade a spade does so from a love of plain speaking; may be short of synonyms.

Who is too far away to hear the orator is nearly as badly disappointed as some fellows who sit close to the speaker's stand.

Who puts his best foot forward can be justly proud of the exhibition he makes of his understanding.

Who talks glibly of his "morning tub," spends hours with the manure, ostentatiously displays a toothbrush, discourses learnedly on the quality of soap or picks his teeth with a nail file, really lives a life of perfect cleanliness.

Time-Savers.

"They have succeeded in compressing a full meal into a small tablet, which may be swallowed instantly."

"Good. Now if somebody will invent a morning suit which may be converted into evening dress by pulling a string a business man need not stay out of society."

In German New Guinea.

It was stated recently in the Reichstag with reference to German New Guinea that out of a total European population of 466 there were 174 missionaries, and that for every two farmers there was a German officer. This meant that every farmer there cost Germany $5,500 a year. The speaker remarked that it would be cheaper to bring the farmer home and give them pensions.

Of Course.

"You used to tell me I was bird-like," complained the fond wife.

The husband continued to bury his nose in the paper.

"You used to tell me I was bird-like," repeated the fond wife; "but now you never act as if you thought so."

"You're still bird-like," growled the husband.

"One wouldn't think you thought so, to judge by —"

"Isn't a parrot a bird?"—Answers.

Knew He Was Worshipped.

At the Whistler exhibition in Boston a woman said:

"In Paris Mr. Whistler and an English painter got into a very turbulent argument about Velasquez at a studio tea."

"Mr. Whistler at one point in the argument praised himself extravagantly. The Englishman, listening, sneered, and said at the end:

"It's a good thing we can't see ourselves as others see us."

"Isn't it, though?" said Mr. Whistler. "I know, in my case, I should grow intolerably conceited."

Shaping Silk Hat Brims.

The nail of his right forefinger was long, yellow, horny, and the finger tip was so thickened and hardened that it seemed to be covered with pale leather.

He was a silk hat maker, and it was from curling hat brims that his finger had changed so strangely. Describing the processes of a silk hat manufacturer, he said:

"The belief that cardboard forms a silk hat's foundation is an error. The hat is first built up of various thicknesses of linen—layers of linen soaked in shellac, that, by means of wooden moulds and hot irons weighing twenty pounds apiece, are welded one on the other till a perfect shape, brim and all complete, is obtained.

"The silk is next put on. This silk costs from $10 to $15 a yard. It looks like plush in the piece. The hatmaker cuts in on the bias, and moulds it round the stiff linen foundation. The strips must be very accurately cut, and great care is needed in their ironing and cementing, so as to give a perfect diagonal joint. Look at your silk hat's seam the next time you wear it. The joint's perfection will amaze you.

"The brim up to this point is flat, now its curling commences. That is where my queer forefinger comes in. The shaping of a hat brim is purely a matter of hand, and eye and taste. The brim, while being shaped, is highly heated, so as to give pliability.

"And of course, working on this hot material, patting and prodding it, the forefinger thickens and the nail gets horny.

"Nevertheless, hat curling is pleasant, artistic work. Hat curlers have reputations the same as artists. Their work is distinctive. An expert can tell it at a glance."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
